Transition Protocols | What is Cross-Crediting?

Cross-crediting recognises learning outcomes from units already passed and maps them to equivalent units in the revised curriculum.

The transition matrix is an equivalence guide. Individual outcomes should follow KISEB's approved process.

Transition Protocols | Steps for Students

1

Identify your current programme and curriculum edition (APS-K).

2

List units passed and verify them against your official academic record.

3

Locate each passed unit in the relevant column of the KISEB transition matrix.

4

Review the corresponding unit in the revised curriculum, including whether it is core or common.

5

Follow KISEB's official instructions for submitting records or requesting confirmation, where required.

6

Check your confirmed transition outcome and plan for outstanding units or assessments.
